Charm at the Farm Returns for 2025

with MORE Vendors, Ambiance Enhancements, Baby Mini Cows, and a NEW Charitable Beneficiary, the Giving Voice Foundation!

This one-of-a-kind, upscale, outdoor shopping experience returns this June, August and October on a mission to support local businesses and those dealing with memory loss.

LEBANON, OH – May 6, 2025 – The popular Charm at the Farm Vintage Market is returning for its ninth year of open-air shopping markets, aiming to pay it forward by facilitating the success of small, locally-owned businesses, while supporting overall wellness for our aging community.

In addition to several new and enhanced elements to the ambiance of the farm this year, including the arrival of new, baby farm animals, the owners are thrilled to announce Charm's 2025 beneficiary partner as the Giving Voice Foundation, which provides no cost community programs for older adults with Alzheimer's and their caregivers.

With markets set in June, August and October, $1 of every 2025 Charm at the Farm ticket will directly benefit the Giving Voice Foundation, which aims to serve the more than 151,000 people across Greater Cincinnati who are either living with dementia or caring for a loved one who is.

"We are honored to be chosen as Charm's charitable beneficiary partner this year," said Krista Powers, Executive Director of the Giving Voice Foundation. "The funds raised through Charm will be dedicated entirely to helping fund our interactive community programs for those dealing with memory loss. We offer free music and motion programs, a floral arranging program, a ballroom dancing program and much more, alongside essential planning and peer support for caregivers, all at no cost. We deeply appreciate Charm at the Farm's support of our cause!"

Continuing the aim of cultivating community wellness, Charm is also partnering Prime IV Hydration & Wellness this year, which will offer complimentary B12 injections for those who purchase Charm swag, and gift card giveaways for attendees throughout each Charm weekend!

Charm at the Farm Vintage Market was born from one woman's dream to repurpose and transform a 56-acre horse farm into an enchanting, open-air vintage market full of unique treasures from local artisans and makers, primarily women-owned small businesses. Charm has become must-attend event for women across the region since it began in 2017.
